Project Log – Absolute contagious

Timelines	Absolute contagious' Group work	Glitches encountered	Percentage completion
Week 1	This week was about basic brainstorming about which mental health condition to pick	In the beginning, it was a bit confusing as to which mental condition to consider. We initially came up with sleep pattern analysis but since we were not clear with the ideas. Our TA wanted us to change the topic	100
Week 2	We decided to understand the research method and hypothesis and we read several papers related to Alzheimer's disease	It was tough finding out appropriate papers related to Alzheimer's but with teamwork but we managed to gather proper resources for further brainstorming	100
Week 3	Building up the proposal: Team members discussed the core idea of Alzheimer's. We split up the work to propose what needs to be accomplished	NA	100
Week 4	By this time the group was clear about what needs to be done. So, we used this phase to further brainstorm about how would we accomplish the project. The real project planning started with this phase	NA	100

Week 5	We started working on the REB application research form and started planning about our recruitment plans	NA	100
Week 6	We started working on our low fidelity prototype and were brainstorming about what features to include	We faced some problems in identifying the appropriate features	100
Week 7	We got comments that our prototype is already medium fidelity and so we recruited participants to study our medium-fidelity prototype	NA	100
Week 8	The team brainstormed to study the comments given by participants and made changes to the medium-fidelity prototype	The team faced issues to simplify the prototype	100
Week 9	The medium-fidelity prototype was again evaluated with the participants and comments were recorded	Got some issues to get more participants in class due to lack of attendance	100
Week 10	The team makes changes in the prototype to further improve the prototype	NA	100
Week 11	The team prepares for the group presentation and slides	NA	100

Week 12	Team recollects what could have done better in the entire project and work on the final report, plagiarism statement and final log	NA	100
